BRIDGE PIERS
NOT SUNK DEEP
ENOUGH, BELIEF

Expert Attributes Collapse
Of Dayton Structure
To "Scouring"

EARTH WASHED AWAY

Only Four Feet Of Piers
Under Surface, Should Have Been Twenty.

Dayton, Jan. 25.—Two fundamental reasons for the collapse of the West Third street bridge last Friday night were assigned yesterday by John Harrington, Kansas City bridge expert, following his examination of the damaged structure. They were:

The fact that piers for the bridge were sunk only 10 feet beneath the river bed when, in his opinion, they should have been sunk 20 feet. "Scouring," or washing away of earth around the piers.

These fundamental reasons, he said, brought about a movement of the third pier, resulting in the collapse of the second and third spans.

Harrington, who reached Dayton yesterday morning spent nearly the entire day in his examination of the West Third street bridge and submitted a verbal preliminary report at the regular weekly afternoon conference of the city commission and City Manager Stocklein.

Harrington's report bears out the belief of other engineers who have examined the damaged structure and conforms to a large extent with the conclusions reached by conservancy engineers.

Chief Engineer Arthur E. Morgan, of the conservancy district, said last night that Harrington's opinion coincided substantially with that of conservancy engineers except that Harrington, in his report assumed that the river bed has been lowered since the flood of 1913.

Harrington in his report said that the cause of the "scouring" which weakened the third pier cannot be definitely determined. This undermining, he said, could have been accomplished in a few hours and was subject to a great extent to changes in the current of the water.

"In the first place, piers for the bridge were not sunk deep enough," Harrington stated. "Plans and specifications on the Third street bridge called for the placing of the piers 10 feet below the then river bed. My investigation shows that these specifications were followed out in the construction of the bridge.

"If I had been building the bridge I would have placed these piers at least ten feet farther down in the ground. Not only that but the piers should have been placed on piling or some other means of resistance to the elements used, which was not done.

Explaining the various angles of the collapse and its cause, Harrington told the commission that the most important problem was to figure out the most economical means of restoring the bridge to use.

He estimated that it would require a bond issue which will be authorized by the commission just as soon as the cost is definitely decided upon.

Harrington explained that the water of the river hammering against the pier continually might have sufficiently undermined the pier in a short time, causing the bridge to fall.

When the bridge let go, he said, the pier naturally listed away from its original position and since the collapse has sunk deeper into the river. In the constructing of this bridge a small space was left between the pier and the rest of the bridge.

WOMAN MAY ASSIST PROSECUTION IN TRIAL OF CLARA SMITH HAMON

Oklahoma City, Jan. 25.—For the first time in history the possibility of a woman prosecuting a woman on a charge of murder looms up in the case of the State against Clara Smith Hamon for killing Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil millionaire and politician, which will be tried early in March.

Mrs. Kathryn Van Leuven is an assistant Attorney General to Attorney General S. P. Freeling, who is in charge of the prosecution, and will personally handle the case. Attorney Freeling has stated that he would not ask Mrs. Van Leuven to assist in the prosecution but it is understood that efforts have been made, however to have her appear as one of the State's attorneys.

"Clara Smith is a modern vampire and ought to be prosecuted to the full extent of the law for her crimes," Mrs. Van Leuven was reported to have said.

"If I am assigned to the case I will do my best to obtain a conviction, but I hope that someone else takes the case, as all the circumstances leading up to and surrounding the murder of Jake Hamon are revolting and I would hate to rehearse them.

But although Mrs. Van Leuven thought she could prosecute Clara Smith without any pang of conscience, she would not have trusted a woman jury to return a verdict of guilty. "Women are too sentimental," she says.

EXPECT MILLER BILL TO PASS SENATE TUESDAY

Heated Debate Will Mark Passage Of Measure—Other
Bills Are Thrown Into Legislative Hopper—
To Probe Milk Of State.

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—The senate today is expected to pass the Miller bill providing for a state prohibition commission, to be appointed by the governor and other dry enforcement machinery, and for the searching of houses in which intoxicating liquors have been made and used since the state went dry. The bill authorizes seizure of such illegal liquors.

Passage of the measure may be marked by heated debate. Some opposition is said to exist relative to the search and seizure sections and to the emergency clause.

Upon its passage by the senate, the bill will be messaged to the house. Similar bills providing for the abolition of district school superintendents and making them assistant county superintendents have been introduced by Senator Jones, Meigs county.

Senator Sparks, Montgomery county, introduced a bill requiring individual linen, or cotton, towels and

AUTO ACCIDENT

Watchman Says He Saw
Machine Plunge Into River;
Did Not Report.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—When an automobile loaded with men and women dashed into the Chicago River and disappeared the tragedy failed to excite Thomas Hanlon, a watchman. He informed authorities he had witnessed the accident Saturday night, but "forgot about it."

Divers working from fire boats dragged a big green touring car from the river, but no bodies were found. Search for the bodies will be continued.

"I heard a large car roaring down a street that ends at the river and wondered where it could be going," Hanlon explained. "When I saw from headlights it would plunge in the river I shouted a warning, but I guess they didn't hear me. The car was going 50 miles an hour. When it went over the bank I saw a man jump and heard a woman scream. There was a splash. I followed to the river bank, but there wasn't a thing on the surface to indicate where the car had gone down. I went home and forgot about it."

Hanlon claimed there were two men in the front seat and two men and two women in the rear seat.

Royal H. Myers identified the car as one stolen from him Friday.

Later another automobile was dragged from the same place in the river. Oscar Lustig identified it as one stolen from him in 1916.

The authorities believe it was allowed to plunge over the embankment.

SUPREME COURT
TURNS DOWN PLEA

Columbus, Jan. 25.—Affirming the judgment of the Miami county appellate court, the state supreme court today turned down the application of A. R. Hawthorne, Troy, that the city of Troy be enjoined from paying an assessment of $822,000 as its share of the cost of flood prevention in the Miami conservancy district.

The supreme court also, denied the request of W. L. Slivey, Dayton, and Joseph S. Blevins, Troy, that the Miami Conservancy district be enjoined from selling 25,000 acres of land and that a receiver be appointed to sell the land.

U. S. ATTITUDE
HAS IMPORTANT ROLE IN MEET

Austrian Situation Is Discussed By Supreme Council.

WANT QUICK RELIEF

Discuss Proposal To Renounce All Indemnity Claims.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The attitude of the United States played an important part when the supreme council took up the critical Austrian situation today. Premier Lloyd George and the British delegation are pressing for immediate Austrian relief.

It was understood that the allied statement first discussed the unofficial proposal from Washington that all of the allies renounce their indemnity claims on Austria, as a preliminary to Austrian restoration.

The American representatives on the reparations commission would neither confirm nor deny that such a proposal had been made but it was learned from an authoritative source, that the proposal came from Washington about two weeks ago. The United States pointed out that there is no hope of any country securing indemnity from Austria because she is bankrupt and on the verge of ruin. At the same time the United States announced that she would not participate in the proposed international loan to Austria because it would really be a loan to the allies since the allied powers would immediately demand indemnity from Austria as soon as the latter country is rehabilitated financially. Neutral nations are reported to have taken the same attitude as the United States. The scheme for an international loan to Austria is said to have originated with British members of the Austrian reparations commission.

While the premiers were in session the allied military and naval experts met and drafted an itemized statement showing wherein Germany had failed to comply with the disarmament protocol. Recommendations were drawn up for presentation to the supreme council.

PROGRAM FOR RURAL COMMERCE TAKEN UP BY FARMERS

Tuesday's Session To Be Devoted To Approval Of Reports.

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—Today's joint session of representatives of seven Ohio farm organizations is expected today to be marked by the approval of reports to be submitted by committees providing for a central holding company, with a $2,000,000 capitalization, and a program for rural commerce, including buying and selling, and a plan by means of which all farm organizations, preserving their separate organizations, may cooperate.

Plans for organization on a central holding company which would care for the commercial activities of all commodity organizations, a competent system of financing farm operations, and the correlation of all farm associations, it is said, are being mapped out by the committees.

Members of three committees—finance, rural commerce and correlation and division of labor—represent the Ohio farm bureau federation, the Ohio State Grange, the Ohio Home Protective League, Ohio Wool Growers Association, Cooperative Elevators and Shipping Associations, Dairy Interests, Livestock men, sheep men and the farmers—grain dealers association.

GERMANY WANTS
'BURDEN' LIGHTENED

WINS WIFE 2,500 FEET ABOVE EARTH

Major Paul Milnor, veteran of the Royal Flying Corps, met Ruth Martin in Dayton, Ohio. He asked her to take a ride. When 2,500 feet up he proposed and she accepted. He immediately turned the plane in the direction of Fort Wayne, Ind., where Miss Martin lives. At Fort Wayne "Mamma" Martin was consulted. "Preposterous," she said. "You children are excited. Don't be foolish." As Miss Martin was only twenty and needed her mother's consent, they flew on to Chicago, where a license was easier to get. A church wedding followed.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION FATAL TO MOTHER AND DAUGHTER AT HOME NEAR PIQUA

Mrs. Noah Carroll Pours Liquid On Kitchen Fire Late Monday Resulting In Serious Blast That Cost Lives Of Two; Babe Rescued.

Dayton, O., Jan. 25.—Gasoline put on a kitchen fire caused an explosion costing the lives of Mrs. Noah Carroll, 46, and her daughter, Katherine, 17, yesterday afternoon near Piqua. A five year old babe, stunned by the explosion, was rescued by a passer-by.

Mrs. Carroll and her daughter, Katherine were working in the kitchen when the blast occurred. Mrs. Carroll had laid a fire in the range and was attempting to hasten it with gasoline. As she poured the liquid from the can, it exploded, sending burning gasoline over the entire kitchen.

Griffith, passing the house, heard the explosion. Rushing into the house he found the kitchen a mass of flames and Mrs. Carroll dead. Her daughter died a moment later. Seizing the little child from the floor where she lay stunned from shock, he dashed through flames to the open air.

Noise of the explosion and Griffith's cries attracted neighbors who aided in extinguishing the blaze before it spread to other portions of the house. Contents of the kitchen were entirely destroyed.

Griffith is manager of the Central Union Telephone company in Piqua.

REVEAL EUROPEAN
ORGANIZATION TO AID
CRIMINALS TO U. S.

Detectives Unearth Plot To Smuggle Undesirables Into Country.

New York, Jan. 25.—Smuggling of stowaways and members of ship's crews into this country is becoming so prevalent that an organization has been formed which draws lucrative fees from European criminals wishing to escape, it was reported by Commissioner of Immigration Wallis at Ellis Island.

Ranitations of the organization which charges $50 to place each stowaway on ships leaving Europe, extend not only throughout shipping centers abroad, but also to steamship officials, longshoremen and others in this country, according to a detective agency which discovered the existence of the organization.

Within the last two months 2,000 of these "seamen" have entered this country. Wallis said. The practice is most prevalent on Italian ships, he said.

STORMY SCENE EXPECTED OVER
GERMAN BILL

Expect Trouble In Reichstag Over Soldiers' Measure.

LEGALIZE "CHAMBERS"

Plans Are Similar To Soldiers Soviets Of Former Times.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—A bill which would legalize the formation and maintenance of soldiers and sailors "chambers" similar to the soldiers' soviets formed after the German revolution will be introduced in the reichstag within a few days and probably will lead to stormy and protracted debate. These "chambers" under the provisions of the bill would be elected by secret vote by the entire army and the personnel of the bodies would have advisory power in all army matters. The president of the republic would be made commander in chief of the army after the system of the United States government.

A new departure for Germany is the provision under which common soldiers may become officers.

Following the recent agreement reached at the conference at Weimar instead of a strongly centralized army, troops must be recruited and garrisoned in their own provinces. Thus the Bavarian enlisted men remain in Bavaria under Bavarian officers and the commanding officer for the province is a Bavarian. If the state police is insufficient to meet the emergency the reichswehr of that state may be called out.

A bitter fight is expected to be waged over the bill. The socialists, it is predicted, will put up a tenacious battle against the provision for bidding soldiers to be members of a political party and to attend political meetings.

Under the new army bill officers and soldiers have no vote. The proposed army law closely follows out the provisions of the Versailles treaty.

AFRICAN CHIEFTAIN'S POWER CRUSHED BY BRITISH AIR FORCES

Worried Authorities For 34 Years Is Broken In Three Weeks.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Complete destruction of the power of the "Mad Mullah," native ruler of Somaliland, Africa, and for 34 years a problem to British authorities, was accomplished within three weeks of time by less than 200 airmen and 11 fighting planes, according to an official report on the operations just received here. Bombed out of their strongholds, the natives were pursued, and all the leaders, except Mullah, captured or killed, the report stated.

The air expedition was sent out in 1919, but details were kept secret. It was the last of many punitive forces sent to Somaliland, where continual uprisings have involved the British in military operations at frequent intervals since 1885.

The situation was so serious in 1919, the report stated, that some military action was necessary, but the Government hesitated because of the cost, estimated at $25,000,000, of dispatching 50,000 troops to reestablish order. In the emergency the air force was called upon, and 32 officers and 164 men, in addition to the medical detachment, set out.

An advance party, masquerading as engineers in search of oil wells, landed and set up a base. Then the machines appeared and for a week the "Mad Mullah's" stronghold in the interior was bombed and shot up while the native camel corps cooperated, holding a line about the scene. The Mullah finally broke through this line, headed south, and the planes pursued for two weeks more, bombing and shooting up the fleeing natives, scattering their stock and utterly destroying the power of the rebel leader. Thus the empire for the first time in 34 years was left in peaceful possession of the country.

Two casualties in the camel corps were the only British losses.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

ROBERT BURNS
January 25th, 1759.

The poet Robert Burns, was born in a cottage about two miles from the little town of Ayr in Scotland. Thomas Carlyle says that had the Burns family been ever so little richer, their lives and accomplishments might have been entirely different. "But poverty sunk the whole family, even below the reach of our cheap school system, and Burns always remained a hard working plough-boy."

For several years butcher's meat was unknown in their house. They went from one unfortunate farm to another. "This kind of life," the poet himself wrote, "the cheerless gloom of a hermit and the unceasing toil of a galley slave brought me to my 16th year." His robust body was overtaxed he became liable to headaches and fits of depressing melancholy. Yet somehow he managed a little education. He read in his cold room at night, and composed poetry while ploughing the fields.

When he was 27 his first book of verse came out, containing some of

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va. — "For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women." — Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. ## BASKETBALL GAME FORFEITED TO MCCLAIN HIGH OF GREENFIELD

Because of a violation of the Ohio Athletic Association rules, of which McClain High School, Greenfield, and Central High of this city are members, the basketball game between these two teams played at Greenfield last Friday and won by the local team, has been forfeited to McClain High.

Principal F. R. Harris, of the Greenfield school, and Superintendent Walz, informing him of the rule used by the locals in the game last week of substituting Hudson for LeSourd and LeSourd for Hudson in the line up and Supt. Walz took immediate action by calling Principal Harris and forfeiting the contest to McClain High.

The rule was worked, it is thought, through an oversight regarding the rules of the Ohio Athletic Association, which governs all high school teams belonging to the association and the blame, it is stated by Mr. Walz, has been placed on the proper person. Neither Captain William LeSourd or Kenneth Hudson, whose names were mixed purposely in the line-up are held to blame for the incident and their athletic standing will remain the same.

The McClain athletic authorities also assert that the score should have been 27-26 instead of 29-26 stating that Referee Abrams, of Cincinnati, ruled that a final basket made by the locals did not count as it was started after the whistle blew.

Beauty Chats

Myrtle—Which white spots on the nail did you try to bleach off? There are sometimes little white marks which come upon the nail, which grow as it does and are eventually filled off when they have reached the tip. Do you mean these or the whitish half moons which appear at the head of the nail where the nail and skin join? You cannot remove these.

As a matter of fact you are not wise to remove any. The other marks are not a disfigurement at all. Some say they are caused by bruises, some by poor circulation, some claim it is lime in the blood. They are not unlovely. You can remove them by covering the nails all night with a mixture of turpentine and myrrh, a paste which can be taken off in the morning by rubbing the nails with olive oil.

Worried—If you are too stout the bust will be too large. A general reduction of the whole body will reduce you here. Ice rubs will help. Some women write me that they have reduced a large breast by rubbing with spirits of camphor. Women weaning babies use this, you know to dry up the milk and it often produces a flat breast in that case.

Rose R.—See answer above. You can wear a loose unbanded brassiere to make the bust seem more firm and you can wear loose dresses with plain lines, to make the shape less conspicuous.

Pug Nosed—Have you tried the yeast treatment for pimples? Take three cakes of compressed yeast every day—dissolve one cake at a time in water and drink it quickly. It doesn't taste badly. This purifies your blood. Be careful of your diet too, eat lots of fruit and fresh vegetables drink plenty of water and get at least eight and preferably nine hours sleep in a room with the window open. Get outdoor exercise as much as possible. All these things are only sane rules of health, but good health means a good skin and bad health means a poor one and the ugly pimples you talk of. Send me a letter with a self-addressed, stamped envelope enclosed, for the directions for the blackhead powder for the greasy skin.

Massage your scalp, give it a good tonic and god care and the oily condition will right itself in time.

Anxious—As you have had the habit of biting the nails for so long it is no wonder that they will not grow in a pretty shape. But if you cure yourself of the habit and meantime give the nails good care I am sure you will see a great improvement shortly. Yes, by all means have them professionally manicured for a while—until you see how it is done and can do this for yourself. Year gloves at night and put salve on the nails until you have encouraged a new growth.

MR. HARDING'S WELL EARNED REST.

Mr. Harding's departure for Florida, which has been recommended to him as a place where there are no leading minds, brings to a close a period of strenuous endeavor such as comes to few save presidents-elect, and perhaps only to such of those as summon the best minds to council.

That Mr. Harding has not departed for Florida or another distant and secluded point before now shows he is a man of great endurance, strong nerves and unwearied patience. Nobody less fortunately fortified by nature or further strengthened by a career in the senate, where leading minds engage in the most grinding contact, could stand what Mr. Harding has gone through in the last few weeks. He has grappled with the most powerful minds that ever oscillated in a rocking chair. They have closed in on him from all parts of the country and laid before him more conflicting views on a given subject than would be thought possible by anybody not familiar with the operation of leading minds. They have advised him on his cabinet, and told him exactly what would happen to his administration if he neglected their advice. They have told him to go ahead with negotiations for an association of nations, and they have told him not to. They have made the requirements of taxation so clear that probably no two minds have agreed on what they are. They have established beyond all doubt that something ought to be done about Panama Canal tolls, but just what will have to be decided by Mr. Harding himself. They have told him what he ought to say in his inaugural address, and what he ought, by all means, to avoid saying, leaving Mr. Harding virtually nothing to do about his inaugural address except to write it.

Nobody will want to deny that this contact with the country's best minds has been of great value to Mr. Harding, but it must also have been a little wearing. Two leading minds combined in a restricted space, a family flat, for instance, have been known to produce the most tremendous explosions. A larger number, in a somewhat larger space, has frequently made the walls of the senate chamber bulge a little. But Mr. Harding has had leading minds by the hundred about him weeks at a stretch, and although a strong man physically it must be remembered he had been through an exciting campaign and had faced the more recent torture of a vacation at Point Isabel. How has he stood it? How has his house at Marion stood it, being of frame construction and not designed with a view to resisting the pressure to which the stone walls of the capitol at Washington are subjected? We can only marvel that he and his house have come through apparently unshaken. Mr. Harding has earned his rest. He is entitled to the supreme joy of looking into the vacant face of an Indian River fish which has no mind at all, and of realizing that it will not, when released from the hook, immediately take up with him the question of a loan to Czecho-Slovakia. —Kansas City Star.

A FINE SAMPLE OF A BUSINESS INVESTMENT IN BOYS.

Investment in the under-privileged boy is a matter of plain business economy. It can be sold to any man who is willing to think seriously about it for a few minutes, if he be open to arguments that appeal to sound judgment, to intelligent self-interest, to recognition of the fact that his own affairs are inseparable from those of the community in which he lives.

Every service-giving or producing member of the community must bear his proportional part of the cost involved in caring for its human waste. The cost of waste is always greater than the cost of conservation. This is true in material things. It is equally true in dealing with that most valuable of all things—human life.

In a community where within the week a seventeen years old boy is sent to the reform farm because of having been implicated with his own father in chicken stealing, we certainly have a fine example of the "under-privileged" boy—not only under-privileged, but down right law breaking, taught by the boy's own father.

The total of the loss and cost, due to neglect of this kind of human material, cannot be expressed in dollars, but it is evident that to speak of such a boy as a "total loss" is to fall far short of the actual fact. He is more than a loss; he is an item of continuing expense. Society is not only deprived of what he might have contributed to its wealth and welfare; it must pay for all his crime's and it must bear the burden of his maintenance during the whole of his career.

Judge Arnold, of the Chicago Juvenile Court, recently made the statement that the Juvenile Court and its related machinery, including the institutions which must take care of those who pass through its hands, costs the taxpayers of Cook County and Chicago $1,500,000 a year. How much better and saner to spend some of this money in preventive work, in reaching the boy before he becomes a law-breaker!

A year ago the Union League Club of Chicago, an organization of men who know what "plain business economy" means, considered this argument and found itself thoroughly sold on the proposition. The vision took form in its mind of a club for boys which would meet the under-privileged lad in his own neighborhood and on his own ground of interest, and, thus establishing a sympathetic and helpful contact, would lead him into habits and occupations resulting in the development of a useful, self-respecting citizenship.

The result was the purchase of a good building and the securing of a suitable man as superintendent for the Club, and now 1000 boys have had the benefit of it for nearly a year. The description recently published reads as if it would be enticing to any boy. There is a billiard room, games of all kinds, picture and map puzzles, construction toys, a gymnasium including base and basket ball, drills and acrobats, a drum and bugle corps with teacher, movie shows, debating society, library and reading room, etc.

How far is the club's aim being achieved? Let the Juvenile Court records tell the story. In the nine months that the club has been in existence juvenile delinquency has decreased by 43 per cent, in its neighborhood. Few investments show such quick returns. Here are dividends worth working for. Here is justification from a business standpoint for this venture of business men. Out of this club will come citizens who respect the law, who love their country, who have standards of honesty and industry, who will be producers of wealth or contributors of service in the community.

AMERICAN FOOD, AND LOTS OF IT, WINS ADMIRAL'S CHARGES

The seven children and their foster mother, Eugenia Solifanovia, at their first breakfast in Washington, served them at the children's hospital.

Big dishes of oatmeal, lots of cream, fresh eggs and ham for breakfast. More good American food for dinner and supper. How would it all appeal to you if for months you had been living on hit or miss food—sometimes missing a meal altogether? Well then, you can just imagine how the seven Russian children recently brought to America by Rear Admiral Newton R. McCully are enjoying life. Five of the children, who range from three to twelve years, are orphans. The admiral is a bachelor, but his mother and his niece are going to help see that the children get enough mothering.

The admiral also brought from Russia, Eugenia Solifanovia as foster mother and guardian to the children. The oldest one of the seven is Nikolai, who is twelve. Londmila Mantzky is eleven, and Nina Furman is eight. The others have been too busy getting acquainted to translate their names for reporters.

IN A HURRY.

The blithe new year is gaily hopping to join the old year of the past; the days slide by, there is no stopping, our days are much too good to last; soon we must do our Christmas shopping, time goes so fast, time goes so fast! The new year came, with ringlets curly, and on his lips a cheer-up song that heartened 'em the sore and surly, and showed them that there grouch was wrong; but soon we'll do our shopping early—time whoops along, time whoops along! The new year did some wholesome bragging about his pep and punch and vim, but soon we'll see his step is lagging, and he'll have spavins on each limb; and then we'll see him sadly dragging his carcass to the boneyard grime. So to the shadows we are wending, a little older every day; each flying hour some gray hairs lending to our old domes, already gray, and bringing nearer us the ending of hope and dread, and work and play. Each flying minute makes us older, and plants new ailments in our frames; some new rheumatics in the shoulder, where once we pressed against the hames, or gout in feet that now are colder than when they danced in youthful games. Ah well, gadzooks, we've had our ining, we old, old gents and gaffers gray, and, like the year, in our beginning, we put up many kinds of hay; and now that our white locks are thinning, we must give youth the right of way.

C. & O. ENGINEER AWARDED SECOND TAFT CASH PRIZE

A Lake Division man, Jhon Cravens, engineer on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, has been awarded the second cash prize of $75 from William Howard Taft Fund of the American Red Cross for the first aid performed by railroad men during 1920.

On Dec. 15, 1919, Cravens stopped his train at Duckers, Ky., about eight miles east of Frankfort, and rescued from drowning a boy who had fallen through the ice while skating on a pond.

With the aid of train crew Engineer Cravens threw a rope to the boy and drew him to safety.

The report of his heroic feat was reported to Washington headquarters of the Red Cross by Mary K. Coady of the Louisville, Ky., chapter.

The Lockwood Cup has been awarded to the Junior Red Cross Life Saving crew of the Endicott-Johnson Athletic Association, Endicott-Johnson City, New York, in recognition of the efficiency of this crew and the enrollment of 113 Juniors in the crew during the last year.

All members of this crew were taught swimming and Red Cross Life Saving methods by J. Francis Stack and James A. Flynn, Red Cross Life Saving examiners.

OUT ON PAROLE; ARRESTED

Bellaire, Jan. 25.—George Kennedy, out on parole from the Ohio penitentiary and his nephew, Harvey Kennedy Jr., are under arrest, charged with looting the John Pertl store in Neffe. When the loot was found in the Kennedy home, the men confessed, police here asserted. The elder Kennedy has been in the Pennsylvania penitentiary once and in the Ohio penitentiary twice, although he is only 26 years of age.

Following the arrests, Police Chief A. E. Mahone cited the case as an instance of the evils of the indeterminate sentence law and the present parole system.

The O. S. & S. O. Home Cadets won their fifth straight game Saturday evening by defeating the East Dayton Tigers, 28 to 13.

SAYS IT FIRST AND SAYS IT LAST

Carrie G. Harrel, 319 Nicholson St. Norfolk, Va., writes: "I'll tell anybody that Foley's Whips and Tar is all right. It did me all the good. I said it first and I'll say it last." It acts almost instantly, cuts phlegm, soothes raw, irritated membranes, stops tickling in throat. Sayre & Richards.

BACK UP CHARGES OF EXPENSE MONEY

New York, Jan. 24.—The charge made by Colonel E. H. Abadie, former controller of the United States Shipping board that a $260,000 voucher for personal expenses of Charles M. Schwab was found in the records of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, was backed up today before the Walsh congressional committee by Perley Morris, certified accountant of New York.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Reports that former Kaiser Wilhelm is planning to visit Brazil and Argentina and to make his home in the south America, are unconfirmed by the state department. It was announced today. South American papers have printed reports that the former kaiser is soon to arrive in South America but there are no indications here that such reports are well founded.

Officials stated that it would be likely that if the former kaiser set sail he might intercepted on the high seas.

SECOND POLICE OFFICER INDICTED IN PROBE OF THE NEW YORK SAFETY DEPARTMENT

New York, Jan. 25.—Police Captain Percy M. Du Bois, formerly in command of the Atlantic Avenue station, Brooklyn was indicted recently on a charge of unlawfully accepting a fee for performing regular duties. He is the second of Police Commissioner Enright's captains against whom a true bill alleging the acceptance of graft has been found by the January additional grand jury investigating charges of corruption in the New York City administration.

After the arraignment of Du Bois, who pleaded not guilty and was released in $2,500 bail by Judge Crain, Chas. S. Whitman, special counsel in charge of the investigation, was asked if his inquiry had yet furnished evidence that corruption in the police department today is comparable to what it was previous to the trial of Police Lieut. Becker. He replied: "Why, yes, I think it is; but it is a different kind. It appears to be worse, and it is very wide spread."

Printers Paid $50,000.

It is known that, though Capt. Du Bois is charged specifically with having accepted $100 from a representative of the Publishers' Printing Company, 207 W. 25th street, upward of $50,000 was paid out by the employing printers and publishers' organization for protection during the "out-law" strike of printers, September to November, 1919. It is not alleged that all this was paid to members of the police department. The protection payments are said to have been $5,000 a week. Other complaints are filed against Du Bois, though the $100 is the only figure mentioned in the indictment.

An effort is being made by some of the basket ball enthusiasts to reorganize the old Brady basket ball team which flourished in this city several years ago. This team held the championship of the state for a couple of years and the sport would prove just as popular now. If a good live team could be secured.

Fritz Sanger, the meat and stock dealer, who was laid up at home for a week on account of a sprained ankle, and partially disabled for another week, received $37.50 through the North American Accident Insurance Company. Payment was made four days after the liability was reported.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night.

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use like cold cream.

WOULD INCORPORATE CLAUSE FOR LABOR RECOGNITION IN BILL

Washington, Jan. 25.—"Recognition of the rights of labor" in the Calder bill, for control of the coal industry by the government, was demanded yesterday by William Green, secretary of the United States Mine Workers of America before the senate manufacturers' committee.

"A fair deal to labor implies full recognition of the fundamental rights of labor," Green declared. "That will be conceded, I think even though there may be debate as to what those fundamental rights are. It is my immediate contention, if the committee please, that if the public interest is to be safeguarded properly first: A constant supply of coal at a fair price must be assured; second, this call for uninterrupted and efficient production; third, this possible only if the mine workers are reasonably contented and satisfied; and fourth, the mine workers will be contented and satisfied only if their fundamental rights are guaranteed them. Upon this I base my final contention that it is essentially in the public interest that preliminary to any constructive program for dealing with the coal industry the fundamental rights of the workers must be accepted and established beyond the possibility of attack.

"In this I have no hesitancy in saying, that the rights of labor are superior to and should be considered prior to the rights of capital.

"The rights of labor, whatever they may be, are just as much vested rights as are the rights of capital. Therefore when the government undertakes to regulate, to control or to acquire the coal industry, it is obligated to see that the human rights are protected.

"Property rights are easily defined, readily as certainable and susceptible of exact measurement in dollars and cents. It is not so with human rights and accordingly we submit that in the matter now in hand it should be the first concern of the congress to ascertain or to define the fundamental rights of the workers in the coal industry and so to frame its constructive program that those rights will be protected at all times.

"To assist in the determination we shall state these fundamental principles without due recognition of which it is our judgement that there can be no hope of permanent peace and prosperity in the coal industry either under private or public control and no promise that the paramount public interest in the situation will be subserved. These principles are:—The right of collective bargaining on the basis of union recognition.

"2.—The right of labor to a living wage, with differentials for experience, skill and hazards of employment.

"3.—The eight hour work day.

CEDARVILLE

GAINED 60 POUNDS IN A FEW WEEKS

Lough was getting the best of him but he got rid of it quickly.

"I had a chronic cough for a long time. In fact it was getting the best of me. I could not find anything that would do me any good. A friend recommended Milks Emulsion. The third bottle cured the cough completely, made me healthy and well and I feel like a new man. Before taking your Emulsion I weighed 125 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds. It doesn't seem possible that 3 bottles of medicine would cause a man to gain 60 pounds but it is a fact."—Wm. Gilton, R.F.D. No. 4, Chucky, Tenn.

Mr. Gilton was fortunate in commencing to use Milks Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended by those who know sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

OLD FASHIONED RECIPES.

Delaware Fruit Cake—Three-quarters pound butter, ten eggs, one pound sugar, two pounds seedless raisins, one pound cleaned currants, one-half pound citron, one-quarter pound each of orange peel and lemon peel, one glass jelly, one gill of tart fruit juice, one cup milk, one teaspoon each of cinnamon and ground cloves, three tablespoons yeast powder, one-quarter pound each of dates and figs chopped fine, enough flour to make stiff enough to drop from spoon.

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, all liquids and flour; four all fruits well before adding. Line pan with well greased paper. Bake three and one-half hours in a slow oven.

Grandma's Plum Pudding—One cup suet, two cups flour, one cup raisins, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons molasses, one tablespoon sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, a little cinnamon and cloves, water to stir to a stiff dough.

Butter plate or basin and steam two hours. Serve with sauce.

Sauce: One cup sugar, butter size of walnut, two-thirds cup water, one teaspoon cornstarch, one teaspoon lemon. Mix dry cornstarch with sugar. Pour boiling water over it and boil good. This is delicious.

Cottage Pie—Grease baking dish and cover the bottom well with mashed potatoes. Add a thick layer of left over meat, cut in small pieces. Season with salt and pepper, then moisten with left over gravy or milk. Add another layer of mashed potatoes and cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake until dish is heated thoroughly and the bread crumbs browned.

Discoveries.
Ironing Boards become warped because of the dampness of the garments under the pressure of hot irons. To use a "dished in" board is really a great trial.

A plain board needs nothing more than to have the padding changed from one side to the other. If the board is of the folding-up type a handy man can unscrew it from its trestle, turn it over and fasten it again. The convex surface is much easier for the ironer than the old concave side, and gradually the wood straightens and remains so.

To Save Buying Towels for chair-backs and head-rests, use your scraps of muslin to make ties. Cut circles three inches in diameter, turn in edge and gather with good sized stitches of coarse thread; draw and fasten securely. Put right sides together and over- whip four and one-quarter inches. A good size is nine inches square. They launder well and wear longer than towels. For the dresser make them of pink or blue cambric, oblong or octagon shape, and edge with inch-wide lace.

To Clean Gold Chain, put in a small glass bottle with warm water some pulverized chalk and a little castile soap. Cork bottle and shake well. Rinse in cold water, wipe dry and polish on towel.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

RIGHT ABOUT FACE

For hours Dick and I talked. I made full confession of all I had done, all I owed. When added to the amount Dick owed, the $1,000 he owed Burns, and some small amounts, gambling debts, the total was astounding to us.

"We never can pay it, never!" Dick moaned, his head in his hands. "Oh, why did you interfere with me last night, Nan? You'd be better off without me."

"You would always have been better off without me, Dick," I replied. "I urged you to speculate because of my wicked desire for clothes. It is clothes that have ruined us, Dick, just clothes—things that wear out, or go out of style almost as soon as they are purchased! I am so ashamed. I think I was as insane as you were when you tried to take your life. Why, Dick, it seems as if I would never care for anything in the world again if only I can have you and Junior. I hate clothes! I hate them as much as I loved them! They almost lost me you!" I burst into a wild fit of weeping. I had borne up as long as was possible.

Dick comforted me, holding me in his arms, taking equal blame with me for everything that had happened.

"I shall stay home today." It was Saturday. "You telephone I am not well. God knows it is the truth! And we will find out exactly where we stand and what we can do."

I did as he requested. They were very nice about it at his office and said for him to stay at home by all means if he was not well.

About 11 o'clock the telephone rang. I answered.

"Someone wants to talk to you, Dick."

I knew from the conversation that it was Mr. Burns. Dick, if possible, grew whiter than he already was.

"It is impossible, Burns, I shall have to have time. I can't do it! You must know I am more anxious than you can be." He listened. Then with a puzzled look on his face said: "No, my wife cannot pay it. She has no money. I'll see you Monday."

"I wonder what he meant? Suppose he thought you had money."

I knew what he meant, and was sorely tempted to tell Dick the whole degrading story. Then better, more unselfish thoughts came to me. There could be nothing gained. It would only make it still harder for Dick.

I was fairly sure Burns would say nothing of his failure to lure me from my husband. He had offered to lend Dick that money to get even.

We spent the entire day going over our accounts, and planning what to do. I kept nothing from Dick, not one single thing. We had come to a point where a perfect understanding was absolutely necessary. And while it almost broke my heart to add to his anxiety, I had lost all desire, all ability to deceive him.

"I almost lost him," rang through my mind, "I almost lost him!"

As I have said before in telling my sordid, pitiful story (this part of it) you may think it strange that I could do as I did if I loved my husband. What I did, was entirely apart from my love for him. I never, until that horrible awakening, thought of my extravagance as affecting in any way our relations as man and woman. That was a thing apart. He was my man, the only one I ever had, ever could love. I was his woman, his choice of all the girls he had known.

Now I realized how I had tried that love of his, how I had almost if not quite ruined our lives. Now I must make amends; must win back his trust. He still cared for me and it made me very humble as he told me that he loved me. I recalled how, at first and for many months, Dick had absolutely refused to let me run in debt, refused to speculate. Then I also recalled that he had said, "I have a feeling that I have been in him, that it had been hard to gamble in moderation so he had never gambled at all. I had urged him on, laughed at his fears. What a bad, bad wife I had been in every way! But when my tears dried and I attempted to tell him so, he put his hand over my mouth and would not listen."

Tomorrow—A Difficult Time.
